

The traffic reports provided to me via XM Radio are vital to my business operations. You must allow them to remain broadcasting this most important information. Additionally, it is important to the spirit of America and its principals that competition be allowed to foster the ideas and advancements so well represented by satellite radio. To restrict their operation would be a step backward.

Tom Cleary